The shipyard MV Marine will be showcasing their latest tender at boat shows in Croatia and Cyprus this year.

The 25 GT model represents brand-new, previously unreleased solutions for the MV Marine brand. The new 7-metre inflatable boat line has a sporty look, but maintains an elegant and sober appearance, giving it the Italian name of 25 GT, or gran turismo. It is a highly useful tender for running toys and landing ashore in pure comfort.

The hull maintains the same water lines as are found in production models. These lines provide the 25 GT model with multiple benefits, including increased comfort during navigation, alongside low running costs. In addition, these lines enable the boat to remain dry, even in rough seas.

In the 25 GT model, there are two U-shaped sofas on the bow and aft, for large seating areas that can be turned into sundecks. The console is one of the strongest features of this model; it has a sophisticated design, with a harmonious and slim-line towards the pilot, allowing a perfect view of the onboard tools.

This same effect is also completed with a seat, where the onboard fridge is located. In the aft U-shaped sofa there are many seats, with lockers underneath, as well as a table so to get a wide living area for life on board.

Her construction technology is recognisably MV Marine: the quality of the materials used, the innovative construction technique used, and the degree of finishing represent the essence of every single element with which a MV boat is made.
